

National Day of Remembrance for Aborted Children

Prayer for the Case of Dobbs v. Jackson before the U.S. Supreme Court

God the Father of all history,

We thank you today for the gift of the cause you have given us. You have entrusted us with the vital mission of bringing the protection of law to our unborn brothers and sisters. Strengthen us in that fight.

Today we pray specifically for the Dobbs v. Jackson case before our nation's Supreme Court. This case could be a breakthrough in the struggle against abortion in our land, and we ask today that it will be.

We pray for all nine Justices of the United States Supreme Court, that you grant them profound wisdom and an understanding of the moment, and of the great good they could do for humanity with this decision.

We pray for their clerks and others who assist the Justices. Grant that all of them who value your unborn children will play a role in helping the Court to undo the travesty of Roe v. Wade.

Be with the attorneys who are preparing arguments to the Court on behalf of the cause of life. Give them eloquence and wisdom. Fill them with Your Holy Spirit, that they may speak with His voice.

We pray for the hearts of the American people, who are so deeply divided on this issue. Soften the hearts of those who support abortion, that they might see the pro-life cause for what it is: dedicated not to restricting legitimate rights, but to expanding the boundaries of the human family by protecting its most vulnerable members.

Above all, we ask that your will be done. Give us the strength to accept whatever the outcome may be, and the courage to continue speaking out for every child of yours who is subjected to injustice, in solidarity with Christ Our Lord who also suffered in the flesh, and who will wipe away every tear.

We ask this through Christ Our Lord. Amen.
